

Remembering My Patients Collage

Category: visuals

written by - - | February 2, 2024

“This is the first of several collages I’ve recently made—using sketches of patients encountered on morning rounds over forty years as a family doctor. The patients in this collage I met during my early days as a physician.”