

Some Other Spring

Category: visuals

written by Karl Lorenzen | January 8, 2016

Karl Lorenzen

About the artist:

Karl Lorenzen is a professional artist who exhibits and teaches at leading holistic learning centers. He is a faculty member of the New York Open Center and Anthroposophy NYC, and a teaching Artist in Residence at the Omega Institute, NY. He has taught watercolor painting techniques in New York at the Queens Cancer Center / Queens Hospital Center, and Gilda's Club NYC. Karl's work is featured in HEAL Journal and The Healing Muse. His art was included in exhibitions at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in FUSION Gallery, Tokyo Metropolitan Art Museum, and the United Nations Headquarters in New York City.

About the artwork:

“‘Some Other Spring’ (2015, graphite on paper, 9” x 12”) is a jazz standard (immortalized by Billie Holiday) that addresses disappointment, hope, and renewal. When my wife was undergoing surgery and chemotherapy, she was given anti-nausea medication. Her loss of hair meant that curlers had to be put aside for awhile.”

Visuals editor:

Justin Sanders