

The End of Mobility

Category: visuals

written by Frithjof Petscheleit | November 21, 2025

“In my life supporting my chronically ill partner, we often hit infrastructure that either ignores people with mobility challenges or doesn’t understand their needs. This fountain-pen-and-ink watercolor of an abandoned wheelchair depicts our feelings of defeat when we reach a point in the path where we just can’t go any further.”